GRIMLASH

Director (design): Ryan Jorjorian Director of Photography (art): Ondine Champetier de Ribes

He has slumbered in the bowels of the earth for many centuries. The last of his worshippers now lost to ancient times. But something has reawakened this strange god and his cohort. Is it the season? The bad harvest? Or the moon rising just right over the old oak tree? No mortal can possibly understand his power, or stop it. He has returned and his hunger demands a grim and bountiful harvest.

SPECIAL RULES

HARVEST MADNESS

Increasing your Harvest Madness will give you additional abilities, but it may come at a price, possibly death!

Whenever you see the icon, move the Harvest Madness marker one space to the right on the track. When your Harvest Madness marker reaches a space corresponding to a new level, draw 2 cards from the Harvest Madness deck for that level and choose 1 to keep, discarding the other. The Harvest Madness card abilities remain in effect as long as your Harvest Madness remains at that level or above.

Important! If your Harvest Madness increases beyond Level 3 (indicated by the space with a skull), you immediately lose the game!

When resolving , you may recover health as normal or reduce your Harvest Madness. If you choose to reduce your Harvest Madness, move the Harvest Madness marker 1 space to the left for each . You must choose to either recover health or lower your Harvest Madness - you cannot do both.

If your Harvest Madness drops to a lower level, you must discard the corresponding Harvest Madness card for the level you just left. If your Harvest Madness later returns to that level, you once again draw 2 cards from the appropriate Harvest Madness deck, choosing 1 to keep and discarding the other. When drawing Harvest Madness cards, if there are not enough in the deck, reshuffle the discard pile for that level and form a new deck.

Some Harvest Madness once-per-turn effects require you to flip the Harvest Madness card facedown. During the Upkeep phase, flip them faceup. Their effects can be used again.
