THE VOLK'AR

Director (design): Evan Derrick Director of Photography (art): Agnieszka Dabrowiecka

"We went in thinking it was just another mission—drug runners, maybe a paramilitary outfit, nothing we couldn't handle. The jungle was thick, humid, crawling with noise, but it wasn't the noise that got to us. It was the silence. One by one, the guys started disappearing. Not captured, not calling out—just gone. When we found them, there wasn't anything left but skinned bodies hanging like trophies. I've seen firefights, ambushes, all kinds of hell, but this... there's only one word for what this was: inhuman."

Sergeant First Class Errol Dickson, Bravo Company

COMPONENTS

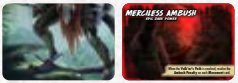

3 Finale cards

1 Epic Finale card

3 Dark Power cards

1 Epic Dark Power card

2 Origin markers

2 Final Girl cards

16 Terror cards

22 Movement cards

12 Various Tokens

1 Killer board

2 Action cards

1 Attack Resolution card

SPECIAL SETUP

- Place the Track Action cards into the Action Tableau.
- Place the Attack Resolution card, the Damage tokens, and the Attack token next to the play area.
- Shuffle the Movement cards and place the facedown deck next to the board. Then, deal out one card facedown next to the deck, leaving room to deal out up to five additional cards.
- After revealing the Setup card, do not place the Killer meeple onto the board. Instead, place the Killer meeple onto the back of the Finale card in the space indicated. Then, place an Origin marker onto the space where the Killer would begin and place the second Origin marker onto the back of the single facedown Movement card.

Example starting setup for the Volk'ar.

SPECIAL RULES

The Volk'ar has sophisticated cloaking technology and will spend much of the game hiding in the shadows, hunting her prey. The Volk'ar does NOT have a Movement Value. Instead, her movement will be directed by the path of Movement cards.

DEFINITION OF TERMS

- CONCEALED - The Volk'ar cannot be seen, although she is ALWAYS somewhere on the board (indicated by her Path - see below). When Concealed, her current space is hidden and her Killer meeple is on the Finale card. If the Volk'ar is Concealed at the start of the Killer phase, resolve the upper Killer Action on the Finale card.

The Volk'ar will resolve one Killer Action if she is Concealed and a different one if she is Visible.

- VISIBLE - The Volk'ar's cloaking tech is disengaged and she can be seen normally. Her Killer meeple will be on the board when she is Visible. If the Volk'ar is Visible at the start of the Killer phase, resolve the lower Killer Action on the Finale card.

- PATH - The hidden route the Volk'ar is following, indicated by the row of Movement cards.
- ORIGIN CARD - This is the first Movement card in the Path (denoted by placing an Origin marker on top of it) and indicates where the Volk'ar will begin her hidden movement.

BUILDING THE VOLK'AR'S PATH

Whenever you see the icon, draw a Movement card and place it faceup in the next spot in the Path. Whenever you see the icon, draw a Movement card and place it facedown instead. If the Volk'ar is Visible when the icon is resolved, she will immediately become Concealed. Place one Origin marker on the newly drawn Movement card and the second Origin marker in the Volk'ar's current space. Then, place the Volk'ar's Killer meeple onto the Finale card.

If you ever need to draw a Movement card and the deck is empty, shuffle the discard pile and form a new Movement deck.

RESOLVING THE VOLK'AR'S PATH

The Volk'ar will resolve her Path and reveal herself when one of three things occurs:

* You resolve the Reveal icon  on a card.
* You add a 6th Movement card to her Path. If this occurs while resolving the Killer Action on the Finale card, finish resolving the Killer Action first before resolving her Path. If this happens while resolving a Terror (or other) card, finish resolving the entire card first before resolving her Path. This may result in there being more than 6 Movement cards to resolve.
* While Concealed, an attempted attack against her would do damage (see Attacking the Volk'ar below).

When any of the above occurs and the Volk'ar is revealed, immediately do the following:

1. Place the Volk'ar's Killer meeple onto the board in the space with the Origin marker, even if that space is no longer accessible due to a location effect. Then, place both Origin markers next to the Movement deck.
2. Starting with the Origin card, resolve each card in the Path one at a time, flipping the card faceup if necessary. Follow the instructions on each Movement card to move the Volk'ar, attacking in her current space if indicated. Any spaces with movement restrictions or penalties for the Killer will apply to the Volk'ar and sometimes result in her not moving for a particular Movement card.
3. If either you or Volk'ar take damage while resolving a Movement card and need to reveal the Final Health token, wait until all the Movement cards have been resolved first.
4. After resolving all the cards in the Path, discard the Movement cards.

Note! You are never allowed to look through the pile of discarded Movement cards.

TRACKING THE VOLK'AR

You can use the Track Action card in order to hone in on the exact space where the Volk'ar is hiding. If all Movement cards in the Path are faceup, then you will know EXACTLY which space the Volk'ar is in, but if even one card is facedown, you will have to guess at her exact location.

It's the Killer phase and Liz has just drawn the Out of the Shadows Terror card, which has the icon on it. She must now resolve the Volk'ar's Path, currently four cards long.

She first moves the Killer meeple from the back of the Finale card to the space on the board marked by the Origin marker and places both Origin markers next to the Movement deck.

Liz flips the two facedown Movement cards faceup, revealing the route the Volk'ar will take. Card 1 says "Move 3 spaces towards the closest space." Because both the Rebel Camp and the Ancient Ruins are equidistant, the tie is broken in reverse alphabetical order (per the card), so the Volk'ar moves to the Rebel Camp. There's a Killer Action line on the card so she kills the lone Victim present there. Card 2 says "Move 2 spaces towards the closest space," but says NOT to consider the current space. Because the Rebel Camp doesn't count, the Volk'ar moves 2 spaces towards the Ancient Ruins, ending up in the space she started in. There's a Killer Action line, but the space is empty, so nothing happens.

Card 3 in the Volk'ar's Path says "Move 1 space on a 6." Checking the space's panic numbers, Liz moves the Volk'ar's Killer meeple one space to the left. There's a Victim there but no Killer Action line on the Movement card, so the Victim escapes death (for now). The fourth and final card says "Move 1 space towards the closest Named space." There's a tie between the Central River and the Ancient Ruins, but per the card ties are broken in alphabetical order, so the Volk'ar moves to the Ancient Ruins. There's a Killer Action line on the card and (unfortunately) Liz's Final Girl meeple is at the ruins, so she gets attacked by the Volk'ar. Finally, Liz gathers up the Movement cards and discards them. The Volk'ar is now Visible, although who knows for how long.

ATTACKING THE VOLK'AR WHEN SHE'S CONCEALED

When Concealed, the Volk'ar is always at a specific space on the board, indicated by her Path. Any space on the board within range can be targeted (following normal attack rules) AS IF the Volk'ar was present there. Place the Attack token in the space being targeted and resolve the attack. Track how much damage resulted from the attack by placing Damage tokens on the Attack Resolution card. If the attack resulted in no damage, the Volk'ar remains Concealed and her Path is not resolved. Otherwise, resolve the Volk'ar's Path as previously described.

If the Volk'ar's final space is the same as the space with the token, the attack's damage is resolved! Apply the damage on the Attack Resolution card to the Volk'ar.

If the Volk'ar ended her movement in a different space, the attack had no effect. Instead, the Volk'ar ambushes YOU (regardless of who the attack came from). Resolve the Ambush Penalty on the bottom of the final Movement card in her Path.

Finally, discard any tokens on the Attack Resolution card and remove the token from the board.

The Ambush Penalty.

Note! If you attacked your current space AND the Volk'ar ended her movement in that space AND there was a Killer Attack line on the final Movement card in her Path, both your attack and the Volk'ar's are considered to have happened simultaneously.

WHEN THE VOLK'AR IS CONCEALED

If the Volk'ar is Concealed, the following exceptions apply:

- If an effect asks you to place something, or count spaces, in relation to the Killer, treat the space with the Origin marker as the Volk'ar's current space for the purposes of resolving the effect.
- If an effect asks you to place the Killer, ignore the effect.
- If a card has a Killer Action line, treat it as a icon.
- Victims will not panic during the Panic phase.

There's currently only one card in the Volk'ar's path, the Origin card, so Maggie decides to take a risk and attack. She deduces that there's a good chance the card will direct the Volk'ar to the nearest space (she hasn't seen many of those so far this game, and she knows there are three in the Movement deck), so she targets the Supply Depot and places the token there. Using a Furious Strike Action card along with her M16, she rolls a 5 and a 6! She does with Furious Strike and an additional with the M16 for a total of 4! She places tokens on the Attack Resolution card to match the amount of damage her attack inflicted. Now to see if she actually managed to hit the Volk'ar!

Because Maggie did damage with an attack, the Volk'ar automatically resolves her Path. Maggie flips the lone Movement card faceup and discovers that she guessed incorrectly: the card says to move towards the closest space, NOT the closest space. Maggie moves the Volk'ar's meeple one space south to the Cave. Because the Volk'ar did not end up in the space with the token, Maggie's attack is wasted. She discards the tokens with no effect.

Finally, because the attack was directed at the wrong space, Maggie suffers the Ambush Penalty on the bottom of the Movement card. She increases Horror by one and vows to make a better guess next time.

